GENESIS HOUSE

About:

From 2021 to 2022, Genesis House served 82 children - providing them with a place to live, play, and rest as their parent began to build a life without violence. As children learn best through play, continuing to develop various opportunities, including outdoor spaces, offers them a way to be active while tending to their mental health. Genesis House has used the Healthy Places Grant to increase activity and engagement for the parents and children residing at the shelter by:

- Installing a playground structure and fall zone surface

This new outdoor playground will provide a welcoming, fun space for all shelter residents and children for years.
